His Commoner Prints Bitter Attack on Ohio's Candidate for Presidency.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Washington, June 18.—Is William tennings Bryan to make more trouble content to receive more than his share tating to Congress what it should do Bryan now seems to have come out openly against Judson Harmon In its issue this afternoon, the Wash ington Times says:

ington Times says:

"William Jennings Bryan is out in the open against Harmon for President, and the fact has given shivers to supporters of the Ohio executive.

"The Commoner, which reached Washington to-day, makes the announcement in curious fashion. It merely quotes from the Liberal, of Creighton, Neb., an indictment of Harmon as the candidate of the 'interests'. The quotation demands to know who is paying the publicity and other expenses of the Harmon campaign, and refers to the Ohio Governor as the candidate of the 'commercial criminals' among whom the supreme political issue is continuance of their 'divine right to rule."

"Mr. Nichols has, just been in New York, and the result of his mission there has been guarded very carefully. New York is looked upon as a pivotal State. Harmon or Wilson is expected to get its delegation, and the man who gets it will thereby get the capital prize in the pre-convention lottery. "That the sentiment of congressional Democrats will have comparatively little effect in directing their national convention is the general expectation of Harmon people in Washington. One of these said to-day: 'A poll of the House Democrats to-day would show Champ Clark the favorite by two-thirds to three-fourths majority. Harmon would be an easy second and Wilson a bad third."
"But Wilson is coming fast. There is no use denying that. Harmon is weak with the Bryan element, because he had a bad record in the matter of loyalty to Bryan.
"The Harmon people do not consider their case by any means hopeless, because they consider that their man is more likely than any other to get the New York delegation. This, they think, would leave Wilson out of it, so far as the East is concerned, and give that section, aside from New Jersey, to the Ohlo man. Moreover, they expect Indiana to send a delegation nominally favoring Governor Marshall, but really controlled by Taggart and in Hospital.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Washington, N. C., June 18.—Charles Ricks, eldest son of Sheriff George E. Ricks, of this city and county, attempted to commit suicide by cutting his throat with a razor about 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Kicks is said to have been in low spirits and very despondent over the death of his flances, which occurred at the Fowler Hospital this morning, after a very short illness from appendicitis He had been devoted to the young woman, and her death was a great shock to him. He had been in a depressed condition all day. His mother had been at his bedside all day, and happened to leave the room for a few minutes.

James McClure, a friend of Ricks, went up to his room to try to cheer him a little. Finding the door locked, he suspected something wrongs, and immediately called the family. Upon forcing the door they found Ricks lying on the bed, with a deep gash in his throat and the bed covered with blood.

Almost every doctor in town was summoned and arrived a few minutes afterwards. Dr. John G. Blount and Dr. J. J. Nicholson arrived first and sewed up the wound. The anterior ligular vein had been cut, and the young man lost a great deal of blood, but the doctors hope that he may recover. His condition at present is precarious.

Ricks is about twenty-three years of age, a young man of good habits and well thought of in this city.

The lightning struck in many places, but the worst damage was done by the hail, which stripped some of the orchards. Manager J. H. Pifer, of the Strasburg. Orchard and Produce Company, one of the largest concerns of the kind in the vicinity of Strasburg, stated yesterday that their crop of peaches will be a total failure. They estimate their loss at $15,000. Similar reports come from other fruit men of that locality. The greater portion of Frederick county, however, escaped the hail's damage, so far as fruit is concerned, but it cut off many fields of wheat and young corn. and the storm was particularly sever-

The trustees of the Front Royal Mill The trustees of the Front Royal Milling Company have sold, by order of the court, the large flour mill at that place to C. C. Proctor, a practical miller, of Mount Crawford, Va., for $15,000, which is said to be about half its actual value. He intends to reopen the mill. It is stated in this connection that efforts will be made again to indict Manager Wilbur Welfley, of the defunct company, on the charge of misappropriation of funds.

George N. Garvin, a well-known grain dealer of Boyce, Clarke county, who bought large quantities of wheat at the highest market prices during the fall and winter, has about 70,000 bushels stored in his elevator at that place, and he stated a day or two ago that he feared he would lose heavily, in view of the fact that the price continues to decline.

Before the government will pay out any money for the land it has acquired near Front Royal for an army remount station, it will have to be satisfied that the sellers can give clear titles to the property, which consists of about 5,000 acres, and to that end District Attorney Gillespie has employed a firm of lawyers to examine the deeds as far back as the time of Lord Fairfax, who owned all the "Northern Neck" of Virginia. The deeds were found yesterday, recorded and bound in the vault at the clerk's office in Winchester, and there will be no trouble whatever in giving clear titles. Although yellowed by age, the handwriting on the linen paper is clear and distinct, and much more minute and detailed descriptions are given as to boundaries than is customary in this day.

While members of the family of former Police Chief Stewart A. Seabright were still lamenting the deaths of two of their number, news was received a few days ago of the third death within three months, Mrs. Daniel Pendleton Carper, sister of Mrs. Seabright, having expired suddenly at her home in Quaker City, O., at the age of sixty-seven years. She was born and reared near Brucetown, this county.

John W. McKown, one of the most wirely known farmers and horticulturists of Frederick county, died on Saturday afternoon, after a brief illness, of paralysis, aged about seventy-four years. He was in Winchester a few days ago, and was suddenly stricken upon returning to his home, near Grimes. Several Pittsburg men were in town yesterday and closed a deal for the purchase of sixty-five acres of orchard land near Charlestown from Miss Julia II. Terrell, for $450 an acre. The trees are about ten years old. They also obtained an option on sixty-five acres of unplanted land adjoining, for $2,000.

A law and order league, with a very large membership, has been organized at Charlestown, Jefferson county, W. Va., for the purpose of seeing to it that the laws are obeyed and respected, now that the county court has decided to grant no liquor licenses. All the saloons will have to close by July 1. A few nights ago the saloon of Bob Miller was robbed of a large quantity of whiskey, presumably by some one who wanted to be prepared for the long drought which is to ensue.

Efforts were made by the board of directors of the Elkton Land and Improvement Company this week to sell the large Hotel Elkton, but the price offered was regarded as entirely too small, and Mrs. A. C. Drawbaugh was given another lease.

New York, June 18 .- Robbers

New York, June 18.—Robbers broke into the home of Mrs. Morando, in the lower East Side, tied a rope about her neck and murdered her by tightening the rope with a stick, after the manner of the garrote. They then lacerated her ears by tearing out the diamond earrings and took from her inners four diamond rings.

Mrs. Morando, who was about fortyfive years old, and the wife of a prosperous merchant, had sent her two small children out to play when two men rapped on her door.

When she opened the door they attacked her. Her fourteen-year-old son, coming back from play an hour later, found the door locked and entered the apartments through a fire escape. He found his mother dead and the flat looted. His cries stimmoned the neighbors. The rooms had been ransacked and the police believe that the robbers obtained more than the jewels taken from Mrs. Morando's body.
